Rev. 2-17-2019

“ I have become more articulate in voicing my understanding of leadership and why I make the decisions I do.

—WIL Participant

“ WIL is about finding your own leadership style and getting the space and the time to reflect on what kind of leader you could be. Not to make yourself into something else, but giving you the time to discover what you have inside of yourself.

—Norma Smith Olson

“ Life changing!

—Corrie Lapinsky

“ The longer the time lapses from my first year in WIL to now, the more powerful it becomes. I think there's not a day that goes by that I'm not aware of the impact of my experience in the Women's Leadership Community.

—Kate Maple

Program Outcomes

The Women In Leadership program is designed for you to explore and set your own path

- Increase personal power and leadership integrity.
- Develop a clear sense of personal purpose and vocation.
- Gain momentum for personal transformation.
- Learn how to use differences to create collective wisdom.
- Learn how to create conditions for effective teamwork and community.
- Develop skills to balance personal and work life.
- Connect with a network of women authentically leading in their own lives.

This learning community provides encouragement, challenge, deep inquiry and accelerated leadership and personal development. Become part of the growing, ongoing Women's Leadership Community, in place since 1997.

Bringing our whole selves into the world involves deep reflection. We explore relationships, community, earth and spirit (the archetypical feminine) that are traditionally overshadowed in the workplace by more prevalent practices (the archetypical masculine) such as power, control, achievement and focus. Our practices integrate these archetypes and help you tap into your leadership potential.
